

My first pocket-money week

Start small with an adult. Practise with pretend money if you prefer. Type in the boxes or print and write. No real allowance is required.

Week starting

1. Agree your starting money

Money already held (RM)

New money received (RM)

Money I can plan with = both amounts added

2. Give your money a job

Choose your own amounts. Together they must equal your planning total.
Kindness may cost RM0. It is fine to leave money undecided.

Spend now (RM)

Save for later (RM)

Kindness / share (RM)

Not decided yet (RM)

My saving goal (or write "still thinking")

This is a plan, not a grade. There is no required allowance or fixed split. Ages 6-8: adult reads and uses whole ringgit. Ages 9-12: add the four amounts and explain one trade-off. Ask an adult before a real purchase.

My little money report

3. Record what happened

Record each event once. Use RM amounts. Saving is still your money: moving it into a saving jar does not count as spending or giving.

Day	What happened	In	Spent	Given

4. Check the money you still hold

Starting money + all In - all Spent - all Given = money still held.
Include money in your saving jar. Count it with an adult to check.

Money still held (RM)

5. Our report-card moment

One choice I feel good about

One thing I will try next week

Adult chat: What helped? What could we practise together?
